PLAYGROUND SAFETY

Proper supervision of children while in attendance at school shall be the responsibility of the building principal and teachers. It will be the responsibility of the building principal to properly assign teachers to maintain sufficient supervision of all school children while in attendance at school. In the elementary schools, where children are permitted to have "free" play activity, it will be the responsibility of the school principal to have proper supervision of this activity. The actual method of assigning teachers to supervise playground activity will be the direct responsibility of the building principal. It is of most importance to have adequate supervision of playground activity at all times.
